Bruneau Quick Response volunteers Stacey Buckingham, Mary Tindall and Frank Bachman met with the Board to present the plans for the proposed Quick Response Facility to be built in Bruneau. As of this time, the QRU has approximately $200,000.00 in funds for the construction, and recently received the Idaho Gem Grant for an additional $50,000.00 with another grant application in the works for $50,000.00. Mr. Bachman, on behalf of the QRU, asked the Board if there was a possibility they could make a contribution out of the Haz-Mat fund for an additional $50,000.00, explaining the initial bid for minimal construction was $300,000.00 and with the additional funding it would be possible to complete the project. Stacey Buckingham stated he would be turning in the building permit application within the week, and Mr. Bachman asked the Board if they would consider waiving the building permit fee. Commissioners said for a community project as this, waiving the building permit fee was an option but that any actual inspections would be charged. Commissioners will research the Haz-Mat fund and make a decision at a later date.
